EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Besides focusing on their operations, our operating companies are also organizing a host of activities ranging from training and development to sports and staff gatherings. All these help to provide an encouraging and conducive workplace with emphasis on skills learning and improvement programmes for our staff to upgrade themselves. The sports and social activities serve to bring everyone together in a relaxed atmosphere and allow us to know each other better. Even though the different teams compete and 'fight' it out whether in the training room or on the sports field or in a treasure hunt, the healthy competition and keen rivalry help to foster the competitive spirit and determination to excel, amongst the staff.

Very often, it is the environment and interaction with our colleagues that develop into friendships that make our workplace a home away from home and our job more meaningful. We had a colleague, Reena, in the Head Office who left recently due to health reasons. Her farewell message speaks volumes of the type of environment and colleagues we are privileged to have in the Group:

Today is my last day in a company I have grown to love and cherish since working here for 16 years. Over the years, I have grown to love coming to work and it is with a heavy heart that I have to bid it adieu. While working in this company I have had many wonderful experiences, participated in self-development programs and meeting many new and wonderful people in my life.

I am very fortunate to work with a management that saw the potential in me and pushed me to go beyond the limits I had otherwise set for myself. Even though I am differently challenged, I am always treated as an equal amongst my peers. I am always appreciated for the contributions I was able to give through the duties I was entrusted within the organization although at times it may be small.

Therefore, it is with a very heavy heart that I have to leave this truly amazing and wonderful organization that I have come to regard as a part of my family. My health currently does not permit any other option.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Management whom I regard with very high esteem, to express my sincerest gratitude for the life changing opportunity that you have given me to work in your establishment. Thank you for believing in me when at times I had doubts about my capabilities, but through your confidence in me, have helped me to endeavor in continuously pushing my limits to better myself. Wishing the Management success now and in the future to come.

UTUSAN PENGARANG

Selain memberikan tumpuan kepada operasi harian, anak syarikat kita juga menganjurkan pelbagai aktiviti, dari latihan dan pembangunan sehingga ke aktiviti sukan dan perjumpaan kakitangan. Semua ini mewujudkan persekitaran kerja yang kondusif dengan penekanan dalam mempelajari kemahiran dan program penambahbaikan kakitangan. Aktiviti sukan dan kegiatan sosial berfungsi untuk merapatkan hubungan dalam suasana yang lebih santai dan membolehkan kita untuk mengenal satu sama lain dengan lebih baik. Walaupun pasukan yang berbeza bersaing dan berjuang samada di bilik latihan atau lapangan sukan mahupun aktiviti pencarian harta karun, persaingan sihat dan sengit membantu memupuk semangat yang kompetitif dan tekad untuk berjaya dikalangan kakitangan.

Seringkali persekitaran dan interaksi dengan rakan-rakan sekerja berkembang menjadi persahabatan yang membuat tempat kerja kita sebuah rumah yang jauh dari rumah justeru menjadikan pekerjaan kita lebih bermakna. Kami mempunyai rakan sekerja, bernama Reena, di ibu pejabat yang terpaksa meninggalkan kita baru-baru ini atas alasan kesihatan. Mesej perpisahannya banyak menyentuh tentang persekitaran dan rakan sekerja yang amat istimewa dalam Kumpulan:

"Hari ini adalah hari terakhir aku di syarikat ini, telah aku mula mencintai dan menyayangi sejak bekerja disini selama 16 tahun. Sejak bertahun aku teruja untuk sentiasa hadir bekerja dan dengan berat hati terpaksa aku mengajukan kata perpisahan. Saat bekerja di syarikat ini telah banyak pengalaman indah ku lalui, menyertai program pembangunan diri dan bertemu ramai kenalan baru yang hebat dalam hidup.

Aku sangat beruntung kerana bekerja dengan pengurusan yang melihat potensi dalam diriku dan mendorong aku melepasi batas keupayaan yang telah aku tetapkan untuk diriku sendiri. Walaupun keupayaan ku berbeza, namun aku sentiasa dilayan sama rata dikalangan rakan-rakan ku. Aku selalu dihargai kerana sumbangan tugas kerja yang diamanahkan walaupun ada ketikanya ia hanyalah sekelumit kecil.

Oleh kerana itu, dengan hati yang sangat berat aku harus meninggalkan organisasi yang sangat hebat dan menakjubkan ini, dketika aku telah menganggap ia sebagai sebahagian daripada keluargaku. Kesihatan aku saat ini tidak memberikan aku pilihan yang lain.

Aku ingin mengambil kesempatan ini untuk mengucapkan terima kasih kepada pihak Pengurusan yang aku sanjung tinggi, untuk mengucapkan terima kasih tulus kerana memberikan kesempatan merubah kehidupan melalui kerjaya di syarikat ini. Terima kasih kerana sentiasa dipercayai aku, walaupun ada ketikanya aku ragu-ragu dengan keupayaan sendiri namun keyakinan yang diberikan telah membantu aku menerokai dan terus berusaha melepasi batas keupayaan untuk menjadi yang terbaik. Aku doakan kejayaan berpanjangan kepada pihak Pengurusan".

FAREWELL, REENA

After 16 years of service with The Lion Group Head Office as a Telephone Operator, Panjavarani Reena d/o Karupiah who's affectionately known as Reena, left on 30 April 2010 due to health reasons. We will miss her cheerful voice and helpful nature. Lion Today wishes Reena good health and all the best.

Hailing from Penang, Reena, the third of four siblings with a sister and two brothers, went to primary school in Convent Butterworth, and continued with her secondary schooling at St George's Girls School. Her family shifted to Taiping for two years before settling down in Kuala Lumpur where her late father, Mr Karupiah s/o Doraisamy had registered her at the Malaysian Association for the Blind (MAB) to learn braille.

Reena's positive attitude fostered by her family's love and concern led her to join The Lion Group 16 years ago. It was in 1994 when Ms Lo Kar Fai and Ms Catherine Yong went to MAB on a recruitment drive. With a smile, Reena recalled the moment when she was called for an interview with six other shortlisted students from MAB. It was a last minute call by En Zainuddin, the MAB trainer, who urged her to go for the interview. Reena's late father accompanied her in a cab making sure she would be there on time. All the efforts paid off when she received the offer letter two weeks later to commence work as a Telephone Operator.

Using the PABX system was not easy at first, but her willpower and dedication saw her through, with her sweet and polite voice greeting callers whenever she answered the phone. No wonder she was ranked 7th out of 34 participants during the Telephone Courtesy Campaign held in 2008, amongst the operators in the Group.

Relating her health conditions, the soft-spoken Reena was born with a few complications; congenital heart disease and Lupus SLE blood disorder. She had her first surgery when she was aged 12. When she was 18 years old, the Lupus SLE affected her eyesight. She couldn't see in one eye when she woke up one morning and the other eye was also affected in just less than 20 days after that. In recent months, the Lupus SLE caused her hands to shake all of a sudden. Concerned about her health, she went for various check-ups including MRI for the brain and Echocardiogram for the heart, and opted for early retirement on medical grounds.

Reena has been participating in many events organized by the Group, including the annual Cross Country at various locations and a Team Building activity at Tanjung Tuan. One of the most memorable moments was when she met Tun Dr Mahathir Mohammad in Putrajaya during the 42nd Merdeka Day celebrations in 1999.

She deeply thanks the Group especially Group Chairman & CEO, Tan Sri William Cheng for giving disabled people like her the opportunity to serve in the Group. She hopes other companies will open their doors to disabled people too. She thanks her colleagues who have always made time to accompany her to the LRT station to catch the train home especially after her late father who was also a staff of Lion Group for 14 years, passed away in September 2008; and everyone for their support, patience and concern for her.

Asked to share her thoughts, Reena says willpower, positive thinking, determination and not looking back because life is a gift, will always keep her motivated and cheerful. At the farewell gathering for her, she read two poems she had specially written for her friends and colleagues in the Group.

* A NEW BEGINNING *

It's only the beginning now
a pathway yet unknown
at times, the sound of other steps
sometimes we walk alone

The best beginnings of our lives
may sometimes end in sorrow
but even in our darkest days
the sun will shine tomorrow

So we must do our very best whatever life may bring and look beyond the winter chill to smell the breath of spring

Into each life will always come a time to start anew
a new beginning for each heart
as fresh as morning dew

Although the cares of life are great and heads are bowed so low the storms of life will leave behind the wonder of the rainbow

The years will never take away
our chance to start anew
it's only the beginning now
so dreams can still come true.

* LOVE TO MY FRIENDS *

As I gaze outside my window
I see beautiful colours of the rainbow red, blue, green and yellow across the wide green meadow where pretty flowers and wild plants grow

Birds in the sky, butterfly and sparrow flying so freely as the wind blows wide rivers and narrow stream flow to water the land, sheep and cattle and the buffaloes

There is one thing I'm sure to know that I am leaving my friends whom I love so Thank you for the support,
love and concern you show giving me courage and help me grow.

May God Bless All Of You
With Hugs And Kisses

Implementation of eDividend

Contributed by Mr Daniel Chew Wai Huan, Share Registration Department

In his Budget 2010 speech last year, the Prime Minister and Financial Minister, Dato' Sri Mohd Najib Bin Tun Haji Abdul Razak called upon PLCs to offer eDividend to shareholders. On 26 October 2009, the Securities Commission issued a statement that eDividend would be offered by the third quarter of 2010. The paperless dividend payment system will result in increased convenience and faster access to dividends within a secure environment for shareholders. It eliminates the need for them to visit the bank to deposit dividend cheques which are posted to them, as well as the problem of misplaced, lost or expired cheques.

Shareholders can provide their bank account details to their stockbrokers for the purpose of eDividend via the submission of an 'eDividend Form' from 19 April 2010 onwards. The form can be obtained from their stockbrokers or downloaded from Bursa Malaysia's eDividend webpage (www.bursamalaysia.com/website/bm/trading/download/Bursa_Msia_FMN050_eDividend.pdf). Shareholders will be given a one-year period to provide their bank account details for eDividend beginning 19 April 2010. Those who do so after 18 April 2011 will be charged an administrative fee.

The following is a brief description about eDividend:

Process Flows

What is eDividend?

eDividend is a service which allows an issuer to electronically pay your cash dividend entitlements directly into your bank account instead of making payment via bank cheques.

One of the main objectives of implementing eDividend is to promote greater efficiency of the payment system which is aligned to the national agenda of migrating to electronic payment.

Registration

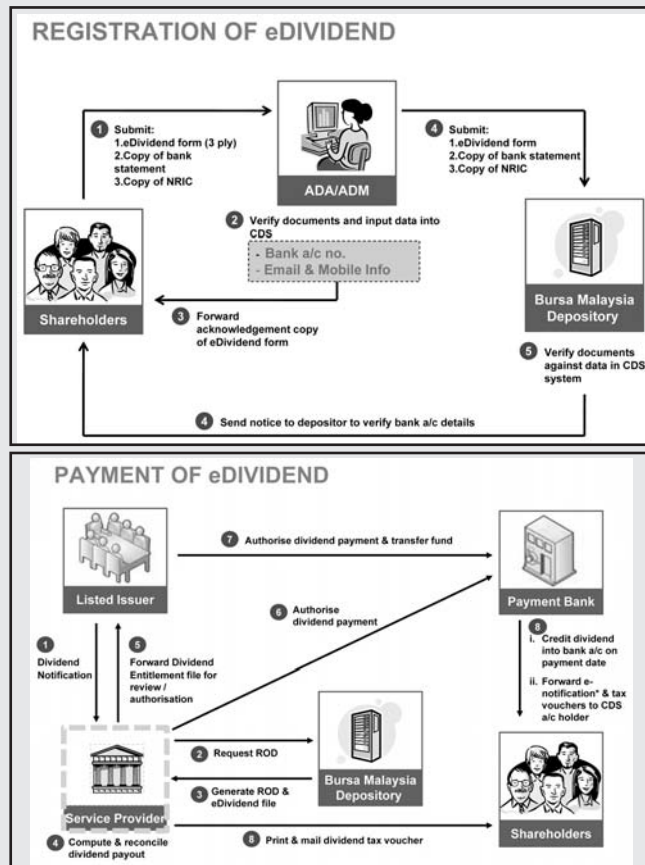

How do I register for eDividend?

- To register, complete the relevant prescribed form which can be obtained from any stockbroker's office or downloaded from Bursa Malaysia's website and submit the form and relevant supporting documents to the stockbroker's office where your CDS account is maintained.

QUALITY OF WORKPLACE TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT

Irashaimase!! That's the cheerful welcome greeting you will hear when you step into any Sushi King restaurant. Sushi King restaurants are the largest sushi chain of restaurants in Malaysia with over 60 restaurants. The key to their success is their unique 'Kaiten Sushi' or 'Revolving Sushi' coupled with the quick service restaurant concept.

We (CEDR Corporate Consulting) first got to know the people behind the Sushi King restaurants when their Senior Manager of Operations and a couple of their Training Executives attended our CBTE Assessor Certification and CBTE Instructor Certification in 2004. They registered for the sessions because they knew of our expertise in competency based approach to training and assessment.

NO EXPERIENCE IN TRAINING & ASSESSING

Sushi King restaurants have a training and assessment system to ensure the quality and consistency of their service as well as food at every outlet. This training and assessment system is all the more critical when we consider that the staff turnover for the quick service/ fast food restaurants sector is usually high.

In this sector, the service crew and kitchen crew at the outlets are usually in their early to mid twenties. A number of new recruits do not have experience in the Food & Beverage industry and they need immediate and systematic training to enable them to contribute to the restaurant operations. Subsequently, they will be assessed to confirm their competency.

While the training and assessment system was being monitored and supported by their Training Department, they had a situation:

Most of the restaurant managers & assistant managers, kitchen leaders and service crew leaders have never been trained to train and assess others.

Some may have had the experience as they had previously worked in other fast food chains. Otherwise, they would do the best they can. This was not good for Sushi King in terms of maintaining the quality of their service and food. They could not afford to leave the quality of their training and assessment to chance.

TRAINING THE ASSESSORS & TRAINERS

Sushi King restaurants identified their first priority as the training of the assessors. We proposed 2 days of training on theory and 1 day of practical at the outlet for the Conducting Competency Based Assessment programme. We checked with them on operations at the outlets and looked into their Standard Operating Procedures and assessment tools.

QUALITY OF WORKPLACE TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT

After several sessions of training the assessors, it was timely to look into improving the training that was being carried out at the Sushi King outlets by restaurant managers, assistant managers and service leaders. We came up with Conducting Competency Based Workplace Training for them, which was a 2-day programme designed to train them to conduct training at the Sushi King outlets. Again we recommended the last day of the training to be a practical session held at the outlets. During the practical session, each participant had to conduct a short session of training based on Sushi King restaurant Standard Operating Procedures and received feedback on how well he/she conducted the training.

FIVE YEARS ON.....

It's been 5 years since we started working with Sushi King restaurants to enhance the quality of their assessment and training at the outlets. Their business has grown from 20-odd outlets to now over 60 outlets. Every year we continue to train new assessors and workplace trainers for Sushi King restaurants. During our latest session in February 2010, we noticed that the restaurant managers and assistant restaurant managers who attended were familiar with the process of carrying out the assessment compared to the earlier batches of participants. The assessment tools had also been amended and updated.

In training the assessors, we focused on training them to:

- Brief the employee before the assessment
- Collect evidence by observing the employee's work and asking oral questions
- Make the assessment decision
- Review the assessment tools prepared by the Training Department and provide recommendations for revision

During the practical session on conducting assessment, we also discussed how the validity and reliability of their assessment could be maintained.

Over the years, the Senior Manager of Operations who had first attended our CBTE Instructor and Assessor had been promoted to the position of General Manager. One of the District Managers that we have trained to be an assessor is now heading the Operations. A couple of restaurant managers that we have trained to be assessors have moved to the Head Office; one as a trainer in the Training Department and another as an executive under the Operations Department.

From the beginning, Sushi King restaurants had a training and assessment system which identified who needs to conduct training and assessment, when to train and assess, the purpose of assessment and the records that needed to be kept. This was applicable to every outlet.

However, having a system alone was not enough. The people playing a part in the system needed to play their roles:

- ☐ Workplace trainers and assessors to train and assess
- ☐ Training Department to maintain the quality of assessment tools
- ☐ District managers to support their subordinates' time and effort spent in training and assessing
- ☐ Management to strongly support the implementation of the system

Our part in this has been to train everyone in supporting the Sushi King restaurants' training and assessment system. In selecting the participants to be trained, Sushi King restaurants have ensured that ALL the relevant parties have the knowledge of competency based assessment and have had the experience of conducting an assessment so as to be able to play their role even more effectively.

Although Sushi King restaurants are not required to contribute to the Human Resource Development Fund, they have been willing to allocate the time and the funds to consistently train their people to be effective workplace assessors and trainers (and in other areas as well).

Perhaps they have considered that the alternative – which is to leave the quality of their workplace assessment and training to chance, would in the long run turn out to be more costly.

CEDR would to thank Sushi Kin Sdn Bhd for granting us the permission to write about our collaboration with them in this issue of Infolink. Care for some sushi? Check out their menu and promotions at www.sushi-king.com.

MAINTAINING QUALITY AT ITS BEST

THE OVERVIEW – Explaining 5S

The term 5S is often used in companies, ranging from manufacturing to sales to other related organisations. 5S is a philosophy and a way of organizing and managing the workspace and work-flow with the intent to improve efficiency by eliminating waste, improving flow and reducing process unevenness.

A cornerstone of 5S is that untidy, cluttered work areas are not productive. Advocates of 5S believe the benefits of this methodology come from deciding what should be kept, where it should be kept, and how it should be stored.

THE 5 “PILLARS” OF HOUSEKEEPING

- ⇒ Seiri (Sort)
- ⇒ Seiton (Set)
- ⇒ Seiso (Shine)
- ⇒ Seiketsu (Standardisation)
- ⇒ Shitsuke (Sustain)

BRIGHTSTEEL SERVICE CENTER'S YESTER YEARS

Brightsteel Service Center (BSSC) has always taken pride in maintaining cleanliness and safe operations in its daily tasks, in line with its productivity improvement plans. For more than 10 years, the practice of 5S Housekeeping has been carried out. What's unorthodox is that no formal training on 5S has been conducted, yet somehow being practiced. The constant efforts taken to sustain a clean and safe environment proved to be a bumpy road, due to the absence of training. So it was time to KICK IT UP A NOTCH and let the saga unfold.

THE TOOLS & KNOWLEDGE IMPARTED

Especially over the last year, BSSC has been focusing on implementing and improving 5S Housekeeping to a higher level. The first step taken was to send all employees for a formal 5S Housekeeping training session. Hence, we (CEDR Corporate Consulting) were roped in to assist in conducting a few training sessions to impart to all levels of employees, the tools and knowledge in implementing 5S Housekeeping within their sections and throughout the company.

The methodology and approach we used to assist BSSC in becoming a more “5S” competent company was by introducing the following measures:

- ▲ Discussion on customizing 5S Housekeeping training
- ▲ Setting duration and timeline for implementation
- ▲ Conducting audit on areas identified
- ▲ Training all staff in 5S Housekeeping
- ▲ Mock audit session

Equipped with this new knowledge, BSSC employees have undertaken responsibilities to carry out their roles in implementing the 5S culture company-wide, to visualize productivity improvement and put it to practice.

THE PRESENT DAY

The improvement and implementation were carried out as soon as the training was over. Here are some of the 5S housekeeping areas and work that have been completed:

- ▲ Painting of work areas (Finished Goods/Raw Material)
- ▲ Disposing of unwanted material
- ▲ Clearing all spider webs
- ▲ Upgraded 5S corner
- ▲ Formed Steering Committee

The good practice of 5S has led to its goal of productivity improvement. Fewer mistakes are being made, lower downtime is seen and safety in the plant has soared higher than before. These are only some of the improvements seen thus far. Who knows what greater productivity improvements will be seen in the near future? We are proud to say that Brightsteel Service Center has embarked on its first stages of implementing and practicing a solid 5S system. Carrying out and sustaining this project is top priority to lead BSSC to greater heights in terms of maintaining quality at its best.
